The 48 Chair

The 48 Chair is easily recognized because of Finn Juhl's characteristic, sculptural shapes and delicate details. The organically shaped seat and backrest are raised from the carrying frame, visually lifting the seated person, making it appear as if the law of gravity has been defeated. The 48 Chair is available in two versions. The first with a frame in a combination of oak and walnut and the second crafted entirely in walnut. The chair is upholstered in textile or leather.
